Philadelphia Performing Arts is currently seeking a talented and committed educator who is passionate about teaching students mathematics. We are looking for future team members who are creative, thoughtful and committed to the idea of collaboration as necessary to a flourishing school community. Our school is rooted in the idea that every student has specific intelligences that must be nurtured and that students should have an equal opportunity for learning and discovery related to the world around them and their own innate potential. These are beliefs that we expect are shared by any applicant along with a love of learning and a desire to work with students, families and fellow staff members.

Experience:
- 1-3 years of classroom experience.
- Graduate courses in Project Based Learning, preferred
- Leadership experience in school or community organizations

Requirements:
- PA Certification in High School Mathematics
- Clear Background Check
- High degree of capability with technology

www.stringtheorieschools.org